Fateful Battle For Singapore Is Fiercely Waged

Australians Use Bayonets In Counter Stroke

SINGAPORE, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Fierce fighting Australian troops wounding bayonets in close fighting successfully counter-attacked the Japanese above Singapore, it was announced today, but the British far east command indicated the picked Japanese troops had penetrated to about 30 miles from the Strait of Johore.

The Strait of Johore, along whose shore the British have begun clearing a mile-wide strip in preparation for the battle of Singapore island, separates the fortified island from the mainland by about a mile of water.

The British far east command announced that its troops are in contact in the center with the Japanese in the Layang-Layang area. Layang-Layang is a town on the main Singapore island, 30 miles above the strait.

It was on this central front that a company of Australians charged with bayonets yesterday and inflicted about 200 casualties on the Japanese, the far east command said, at no cost to itself.

(This communique indicates a considerable advance by the Japanese, since the latest report had located the fighting in that area about 15 or 20 miles to the north, around Kluang and Ayer-Hitam.)

On the east coast the Japanese were fighting the British about Ulu Sedili, on the Sedili river 28 miles south of Mersing and 40 miles north of the Strait of Johore, the headquarters communique reported.

The Japanese veteran Fifth Division is fighting on the central sector.

To the west, where the Japanese Imperial Guards are leading the way, the British reported no change in the situation.

There heavy fighting was reported around Rengit, 40-odd miles north of Singapore.

Inflict Heavy Casualties

The communique said Australians fighting on the east coast last Tuesday successfully trapped the Japanese between the Australian forward elements and Australian fire and inflicted about 250 casualties. The Australians suffered about 30 casualties, the communique said.

Heavy aerial activity by the Japanese continues, it was said, but a Japanese bomber formation which approached Singapore island this morning was "driven off by our fighter aircraft and forced to jettison their bombs."

Other formations attacked targets on the island, the communique added, but reports of damage and casualties had not yet been received.

In the morning attack one of the Hurricane fighters which roared up to challenge the raiders dived into a formation of 27 bombers and when it came out one of the big Japanese planes was trailing smoke.

Overnight Japanese planes attacked Singapore intermittently. Several fires were started but all were extinguished quickly.

General Gordon Bennett, commander of the Australians on the Johore front, declared at his field headquarters that his men have been forced to withdraw from the positions in northern Johore state, where they entered the Malayan battle, because the Japanese have been able to get around the west flank along the coast.

"Our men never have given ground under pressure," he said, "and our gunners have vowed that no Japanese tanks ever will

Auto Stamps Issued To 3,667

Automobiles, trucks and motorcycles using the public highway are required by law to bear a Federal use tax stamp not later than February 1. This announcement has been made by the treasury department of the bureau of internal revenue.

These stamps are on sale, for $2.09 at the post office, and are good until the 30th of June, when new ones, costing $5.00 and usable for a year will go on sale.

Up to noon today there had been 3,667 federal stamps sold to auto owners at the post office, and 3,854 license plates sold by the license bureau, at the Bryant Motor Company.

Penalties will be added if stamps are not purchased before the first of February, and the expiration time for 1941 license plates will be about the middle of February, and after that time there will be a penalty for those driving cars without a 1942 license.

Jury Asserts Chief Reed Withheld Clues

Critical Over Inquiry In The Welsh Murder

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Jackson county grand jury which indicted George W. Welsh, II, for the murder of his sister, asserted in a report today that L. B. Reed, former chief of police, had concealed evidence and obstructed other enforcement agencies in the Welsh investigation.

The jury report stated that on last March 22, 13 days after pretty Leila Adele Welsh was beaten and hacked to death, "L. B. Reed as chief of police had important information positively identifying the defendant, George W. Welsh, Jr., as the purchaser of the knife with which the victim's throat was cut. Why this evidence was not followed through to a prompt, public, logical and immediate conclusion still remains a source of mystery to this jury."

No formal charge was lodged against Reed but the assertions were contained in the jury's report to Judge Marion D. Walner asking permission to stay in session longer.

In his charge to the jury last Dec. 9 Judge Walner asked for an investigation of the Welsh case and, without mentioning Chief Reed's name, referred to "a certain time novel detective who said two days afterward that he could reach out and put his finger on the perpetrator. Then he proceeds to destroy the evidence."

"The time has ceased to be when we can boast of a fine police department as long as this case remains unsolved," he said. "I don't know what the grand jury can do, but it may be there are things you gentlemen can look into."

Is Still In Jail

Young Welsh, indicted yesterday both as "George Welsh II" and "George Welsh, Jr.," was in jail today after pleading innocent. His attorneys said they probably would confer with Attorney General Roy McKittick next Monday to ask a recommendation for his release on bond.

"This grand jury condemns the action of L. B. Reed in ordering the destruction of evidence," the report said. "It also condemns him for releasing evidence to a

Settle An Old Boundary Rift

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 29.—Western hemisphere solidarity was affirmed unanimously and Peru and Ecuador agreed to settle their 111-year-old boundary dispute in triumphal windup of the Pan American Conference here early today.

The conclusion came in post-conference mediation of the Peruvian-Ecuadorian differences several hours after foreign ministers of the 21 American republics had formally adjourned their two-week sessions.

Major fruits of the conference were contained in 41 resolutions—inscribed in English, French, Spanish and Portuguese—recommending severance of relations with the axis, setting up joint military, economic and financial boards and otherwise covering virtually the entire field of Pan American relations.

Ecuador was signed up as the 21st to endorse them.

Her delegation had insisted on settlement of the boundary dispute as a prerequisite.

This was accomplished at a gathering of Foreign Minister Julio Tobar Donoso of Ecuador, Foreign Minister Dr. Alfredo Soli Muro of Peru and mediating representatives of Argentina, Brazil, Chile and the United States.

Nutrition Advice Is Given During Cooking School

"What can I do to help national defense?"

Eager women and club groups throughout the nation are putting that question to food consultants in Washington. Cooking school audiences in state after state ask the same thing of their visiting home economist, "What can I do?" And the uniform answer to the universal query is so undramatic that it almost discourages the average questioner. Here it is:

"Start a nutrition movement. Start it in your own family first."

Mrs. George Thurn, conducting the four day cooking school for the Democrat-Capital, at the Liberty theatre, echoes the second nutrition advice of outstanding food authorities in Washington. She emphasizes the national importance of the American homemaker's job throughout the timely culinary course she is giving, and which will be concluded in Sedalia at the close of Friday afternoon's program.

Would Limit Contractibility

Walsh Proposes Curb On Excess War Profits

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Limitation of the navy's authority to negotiate contracts without competitive bidding was proposed today by Chairman Walsh (D-Mass) of the senate naval affairs committee as a step toward curbing excess war profits.

With colleagues questioning the cost of army fighting planes, Walsh told reporters he hoped to amend a pending bill so that the negotiated contracts under which many ships and planes are built for the navy would yield no excessive profits.

This might be accomplished, he said, by providing for the writing of cost restrictions into the contracts, pending submission by the treasury of a definite plan to restrict or recapture through taxation large profits piled up from armament contracts.

Senators La Follette (Progressive) and Tydings (D-Md) had asserted in the senate yesterday that congress ought to look more painstakingly into proposed expenditures.

The senate unanimously approved and sent to the White House yesterday a $12,556,672-474 army appropriation measure providing funds for 23,000 combat and 10,000 training planes, after only 27 minutes of debate.

Suggests Reduction

Before the bill passed, however, Tydings told his colleagues he thought the time had arrived for some reduction in the cost of individual planes because the country rapidly was reaching a mass production basis.

Tydings declared that the average cost of planes and equipment under the bill would be $250,000 each, and said it appeared that a "fixed figure" had been established even though costs dropped under mass production schedules.

Complaining that the senate was called upon to approve the bill before the printed record of hearings before the appropriations committee became available, La Follette asserted that congress was in a fair way toward losing its control of the purse.

"Congress has a share in the responsibility for this matter and it cannot escape the ultimate accounting that the people of this country will demand on the conduct of the war," La Follette said.

"Congress has a share in the responsibility for this matter and it cannot escape the ultimate accounting that the people of this country will demand on the conduct of the war," La Follette said.

In the event none of those possibilities develops, the Kentucky said, "I believe our committee should make an investigation of the military end of the situation."

Talking to reporters concerning reinforcements for the Philippines Senator Clark (D-Mo) said he was nettled that American equipment seemed to be going in large part to Europe instead of toward the southwest Pacific.

"It must have been a great source of comfort to General MacArthur to hear Churchill announce to the house of commons that we have plenty of bombers to send over Germany," he said with irony. "We ought to get some of those bombers out to the Philippines."

Flag Staff Was Made At Shops

The new flag staff, erected on the court house lawn, was made by the reclamation department of the Missouri Pacific shops, and was loaned by the department to the American Legion, which organization purchased the flag.

The flag will be raised and dedicated at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, with a short program arranged by the Legion, of which Ralph Baker is commander.

George H. Scruton will make a talk and the Smith-Cotton high school and Lincoln school bands will play.

Call To The Colors

In calling American homemakers to the colors, Mrs. Thurn, asks them to put their own familiar weapons of knowledge to use by serving their families the right food to achieve the highest level of what Dr. Henry C. Sherman, of Columbia university, calls "buoyant, positive health."

The theatre was again crowded today, the third day of the four day course, and the women are keenly interested in Mrs. Thurn's demonstrations. Homemakers who think that nutrition and menu planning sound like a dull course, are learning at this school that everyone loves a party, and that every hospitable homemaker is on the alert for original ideas on simplified table service and effortless entertaining. Daily demonstration recipes—watched in the making—are certain to include several that will prove the life of the party.

Mrs. Thurn makes luscious foods daily, and then there are daily awards to many attending.

Churchill Gets A Confidence Vote 464 to 1

Determination For Victory As Soon As Possible

LONDON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The House of Commons, with but one dissenting vote, expressed confidence today in the conduct of the war by Prime Minister Churchill after he had told them the United States was determined to close with the German foe as soon as possible.

The vote was 464 to one. The lone negative ballot came from James Maxton, Independent Labour Party, whose two co-members, Jack McGovern and Campbell Stephen, acted as tellers and could not vote. Twenty-four members, mostly Laborites, abstained from voting.

The presence of an AEF on soil of the United Kingdom—in northern Ireland—represents the desire of the United States that her ready troops should establish battle contact as soon as feasible, the prime minister said.

In a 42-minute summation for his government as the House moved toward a vote of confidence, Churchill also indicated appointment of a British counterpart to the United States' chief of war production, Donald M. Nelson, and disclosed that Singapore had been steadily reinforced for a fight to the finish.

High Spots of Talk

These were Churchill's high spots:

The AEF in the United Kingdom—"If meets the wishes of the American people and leaders of that republic that the large mass of trained and equipped troops they have in the United States should come into contact with the enemy as close and as soon as possible."

War production—"In reference to appointment of Donald M. Nelson as chief of the war production board in the United States: 'Some similar office, not exactly with the same scope but with similar score, must be created here.'"

Singapore—"I cannot tell how the Johore battle or the attack on the island of Singapore will go but there has been a steady flow of reinforcements for several weeks past."

In summation of his defense after three days of criticism and reply in general debate, Churchill said:

"I offer no apologies. I offer no excuse and make no promises. I avow my confidence was never stronger than at this moment that we shall bring this conflict to an end in a manner agreeable to the interests of our country and in a manner agreeable to the future of the world."

"I have finished. Let every man act now in accordance with what he thinks is his duty in harmony with his heart and conscience."

The landslide vote followed, surpassed in measure only by the unanimous 381-to-0 vote he was given when he assumed office in May, 1940.

Dozen Missouri Men On Ship Sunk By 'Sub'

Two Hundred And Fifty Dead Or Missing At Sea

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Jan. 29.—(AP)—An axis submarine appeared today to have inflicted the heaviest loss of life in enemy forays off United States waters with 250 persons, including Americans, dead or missing in the torpedo sinking of the Canadian liner Lady Hawks.

Only one boat-load of 71 survivors has been accounted for from the ship which sank January 19 so suddenly that even an urgent call for help could not be sent.

Seventeen survivors are Americans, 12 from St. Joseph, Mo. The others were from Canada, Newfoundland, the British Isles and the British West Indies.

Found last Friday by the New York — Puerto Rico steamer Coamo, they were landed here yesterday. They went first to the hospital of the School of Tropical Medicine for examination.

Most of those rescued had rested aboard the ship and all but one were able to disembark without help. They had been given emergency clothing by the crew and passengers on the Coamo.

Rations Were Meager

Before their rescue they subsisted on slim daily rations of one sea biscuit, two tablespoons of evaporated milk and four ounces of water per person. Their morale was buoyed by prayers and hymns led by one of the missionaries aboard, Mrs. Marian Parkinson, whose husband apparently went down with the ship.

Originally there were 76 in the lifeboat but five times Mrs. Parkinson conducted funeral services for persons who died before the Coamo appeared.

David Schoonover, of St. Joseph, Mo., succumbed to exhaustion just five hours before the rescue.

The survivors did not say how many of the 321 men, women and children aboard the 7,988-ton Lady Hawks managed to reach boats. They quickly lost the other life boats, whose fate still is unreported.

Scouts To Collect Books For Camps

The Boy Scouts in Sedalia will collect books for the USC Saturday, January 31. The people in Sedalia are urged to look through their books and those that they select, put in paper sacks or tie up in bundles so the Scouts can handle them.

Books are needed in all camps for the men in the service so that they may have something to read in their leisure time. Many thousands of books are needed to supply the camps all over the country.

Sedalia has several men in the service and they have expressed their need for books to read. Let us give all the books we can. Go out and buy one. Give a book.

The books will be delivered to the Sedalia public library.

Toll Of Enemy Ships Increased At Macassar

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Artillery of General Douglas MacArthur's durable little army in the Philippines has inflicted heavy losses and played havoc with Japanese infantry plunges at its flanks, said a war department communique today which also raised to at least 38 the number of enemy ships sunk or damaged in Macassar Straits.

The news coincided with evidence that Germany has shifted a major portion of its submarine war to American waters, with the reported presence of marauding U-boats right off the coast of Texas.

"Headlong" was the word the war department used to describe the desperate and unsuccessful Japanese attacks against MacArthur on the Batan peninsula of the island of Luzon. "Enemy losses were heavy," the communique added.

One Japanese transport in the Borneo harbor of Balikpapan was destroyed, another set on fire, and two enemy fighting planes were shot down by five American bombers which returned safely to their base, the department said in describing a Macassar action which apparently was the same told of yesterday at Batavia.

ico—virtually an American lake. Presumably these U-boats—a navy commandant said they were “doubtless German”—slipping through the strait of Florida between Key West and Cuba. Their apparent mission was to prey on coastal shipping, preferably the tankers which shuttle from the gulf oil ports. However, there was a potential threat of even more daring activity, for the Gulf of Mexico via the Yucatan channel is a side-door entrance to the Caribbean, and the inner approaches to the Panama canal. Whatever their objectives, the raiders were taking exceptionally long risks, for they have poked their noses into a veritable hornet's nest. A number of air and navy bases ring the gulf. And while army and navy authorities kept mum on counter operations, the belief here was that they were vigorous in nature.

The apparent shift of intensive undersea warfare to unescorted American coastwise shipping had several aspects which aroused interest here.

First was the enemy's evident hope of easy prey—a tacit tribute to the effectiveness of the convoy methods now employed to safeguard the vital shipments flowing to Britain.

Second was the eloquent fact that the enemy felt it necessary at this early date to carry the undersea war in concerted force as close as possible to the shore of the great arsenal of the United Nations.

And third was the sacrifice in U-boats striking strength which such operations involved.

Indicate Offensive On Java

BATAVIA, N.E.I., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Japanese forces driving down the west coast of Borneo and the Japanese invasion fleet in Macassar Strait tonight appeared to be clearing the way for a major offensive against Java, heart of the Dutch East Indies and site of the United Nations' southwest Pacific supreme command.

Today's Dutch communique reported a two-pointed Japanese thrust toward Pontianak, chief city on the west coast of Dutch Borneo situated only 440 miles airline north of Batavia, launched by troops freshly landed 85 miles farther north and by other forces operating out of Kuching, capital of Japanese-occupied Sarawak.

From informed sources the news agency Aneta learned that the Japanese convoy in Macassar straits, despite the heavy losses it has suffered in the last six days, is trying to push farther south to the bottom of the strait. From here, these sources said, the convoy would separate for simultaneous attacks on the Borneo port of Banjarmasin and the Celebes capital of Macassar.

Banjarmasin is less than 300 miles northeast of the principal Dutch naval base of Soerabaja, across the Java sea.

(The Batavia correspondent of the London Daily Mail said that, despite heavy destruction of ships, the Japanese convoy “is estimated to have 65 ships still afloat carrying 150,000 troops” and that it is “intent on a full scale invasion of Java.”)

The Dutch command said this latest Japanese operation, already threatening Pontianak, was being carried out by sea-borne troops newly landed at Pemangkat, 85 miles north of Pontianak, and by other forces which early in the Pacific war occupied Kuching, capital of Sarawak, which lies some 135 miles northeast of Pontianak and 100 miles east and slightly north of Pemangkat.

Naval aircraft are attacking the invaders, the high command reported, and the defense forces “objectives” in the endangered area.

Reports 46 Ships Sunk

LONDON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Sydney, Australia, radio said today in a broadcast recorded by Reuters that 46 Japanese warships and transports have been sunk thus far in the battle of Macassar Straits. (Compilations from United Nations communique have put the total at 36 Japanese ships sunk or damaged.) The Sydney announcement said that the sunken transports were estimated to have carried at least 25,000 Japanese troops.

FDR To Tell Of The War Effort

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt expects to tell the nation by radio about the progress of the war effort around February 22 and the White House said today that by that time “it is quite possible he will have things of importance to say.”

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early disclosed Mr. Roosevelt's intention to speak about the time of George Washington's birthday. He said that the White House had been receiving, by mail, telegram and orally, many requests that the chief executive make another fireside chat to the country “to dissipate poisonous and troublesome rumors and insofar as possible to give the country a clearer and better understanding of the war and all that it involves.”

He said the president did not feel that the present was a very good time to talk to the people but thought late next month would be more propitious.

get through our positions—and they haven't.”

Score Hit On Jap Ship

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Australian aircraft scored a direct hit on one Japanese ship and probably hit another despite bad visibility in their third attack on Rabaul, New Britain, since the island port was occupied by the Japanese, an RAAF communique said today.

All the Australian planes returned to their base.

Four of the 11 Japanese vessels known to be at Rabaul were reported previously to have been knocked out of action by damage from the Australian raiders. Reconnaissance flights over the Bismarck archipelago, of which New Britain is a part, were reported to have disclosed no developments of major importance.

Formation of a special people's army, trained on the lines of Britain's home guard, for protection of the commonwealth against invasion is to be discussed by Army Minister Francis M. Forde, and Maj. Gen. Vernon Sturdee, chief of the Australian general staff.

Army headquarters reported that New Britain was believed to be the only area where land fighting is taking place. The position there is obscure. Every effort is being made to establish communication with the Australian militia and guerrilla fighters making their stand in the mountains west of Rabaul.

The war cabinet this morning discussed reports of operations with the chiefs of staff of the three services. Forde announced later that certain “consequential communications” had been approved.

Claim Air Superiority

TOKYO (From German Broadcasts) Jan. 29.—(AP)—Imperial headquarters claimed today that Japanese naval planes had won air superiority over sea lanes in a vast area between Borneo and Celebes and between Celebes and New Guinea.

Specifically claimed as dominated by Japanese planes were the Strait of Macassar, the Molucca Passage, and Ceram, Flores and Banda seas—shipping passages south to the easternmost Indies and Australia.

Japanese forces advancing on the western coastal strip of the Malay peninsula hammered relentlessly throughout yesterday at British mechanized units trapped in the marshes south of Batu Pahat, it was reported.

The British, equipped with heavy artillery and tanks, were said to have bogged down in the swamps around Benut, some 40 miles northwest of Johore Strait.

Reports Call For Garrison To Surrender

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts) Jan. 29.—(AP)—A dispatch from Tokyo declared that the United States garrison at the fortress island of Corregidor in Manila bay had been called upon by radio today to surrender to the Japanese commander on Luzon.

(The dispatch did not indicate that the Japanese received any reply.)

head of Dickmann's finance committee.

Dickmann, defeated last year by Mayor William Dee Becker, told the court he attended a conference at which both Boehm and Nangle were present but that he was not informed of the gift toward his campaign.

Nangle asserted that the Democratic city committee received $2,500 more after Dickmann was nominated.

Former State Senator A. L. McCawley testified Alber C. Laun, a former vice-president of the utility, contributed $100 in 1939 when he was a candidate for nomination as representative from Jasper county.

Glen D. Evans, former Macon county representative, told the court he received $100 by registered mail from Laun in 1936, and Edmond R. Caldwell, representative from Ralls county, said he received $100 from Laun in 1936 and again in 1938 when he ran for re-election. Caldwell was speaker pro tem of the House during the 1939 session.

The trial is being heard by Federal Judge George H. Moore. Other witnesses who testified were: Charles W. Sawyer, Democratic representative from Atchison county in 1933, who said he received $25 from Laun in a registered letter during his unsuccessful campaign for re-election in 1934.

Eugene M. Munger, former member of the legislature from Scott county, who said Laun urged him to accept $100 toward his campaign in 1932 but he took only $50.

When the vote was announced there was a tremendous outburst of cheering and Churchill arose, smiling, and left the house, followed by other ministers. The people in the public galleries, contrary to all house rules, also applauded.

When the speaker put the motion, Admiral of the Fleet Sir Roger John Brownlow Keyes, national conservative member, appealed for unanimous voice approval of the government but the three members of the Independent Labor party—the smallest party in the house—called out “No.”

Criticism Voiced

Churchill's address focused debate in which further criticism of his government piled up, including that of Socialist Dennis Nowell Pitt who asserted that “like-warm supporters of Fascism in the government x x x are a very serious and anxious menace.”

The prime minister said that the landing of the American troops in Northern Ireland—a part of the United Kingdom which shares a land frontier with Eire—“cannot do Mr. DeValera any harm and it might do him good; it offers a measure of protection to southern Ireland and Ireland as a whole which she would not otherwise enjoy.”

Prime Minister Eamon DeValera has protested that the Americans landed in Northern Ireland without prior consultation of his government.

Turning to criticism of setbacks in the southwest Pacific, Churchill said that if Britain had reduced her help to Russia she would have been better prepared in Burma and Malaya.

“But,” he added, “we did not make such a reduction and I believed that the vast majority of opinion in the House and country endorses our decision now even after the events in the far east have taken place.”

Churchill said that the battleships Prince of Wales and the Repulse, sunk off Malaya at the outset of the Japanese attack there, had been sent into action without air support against Japanese bombing “because there was no available aircraft carrier to accompany the two battleships.”

Halifax, N. S., commanded the rescued lifeboat, but to accommodate only 63.

His handling of the small craft and his courage drew high praise from his fellows, who said they owned their lives to his seamanship.

The boat was propelled by a jury rigged sail and a few oars. So effective was Kelly's rationing system that eight gallons of water remained on the boat when the Moamo took the survivors off.

The 17 Americans were: Glenn Mooney, Carl Mooney, Charles Reed, Charles Nielsen, Leland Gann, Orland Peoples, James Coyle, William Pittan, Vincent K. Peoples, William Adams Edward G. Brown and William Asklock, all of St. Joseph; Earl Withrow and Desmond Dawson, both of Savannah, Mo.; Thomas Cooney, Belleville, Ill.; Frank Williams, Mound City, Mo.; and George Gariglio, of Los Angeles.

On Torpedoed Liner

MONTREAL, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Three Americans, whose fate is not known, were included by the Canadian National Steamship lines today in a list of more than 150 passengers, officers and crew men known to have been aboard the torpedoed liner Lady Hawkins.

Their names were listed as J. W. Benson, Malden, Mass., J. Denney, Somerville, Mass., and R. Payne, New York.

Recruited For Naval Base

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Twenty-eight construction workers from St. Joseph and vicinity are believed missing from the torpedoed ship Lady Hawkins. They are in addition to the 15 Missourians rescued and landed at San Juan, Puerto Rico, and the one St. Joseph man, David Schoonover, known to have died in a life boat.

The group were recruited recently for work on a naval base in the West Indies and it was believed all were aboard the Lady Hawkins when it was sunk in the Atlantic January 19.

Hope was still held for at least some of the missing because it was reported that several lifeboats put off from the stricken ship. They broke apart and only one has been picked up.

Those listed here in addition to the rescue list and Schoonover: Ervin Allen, Cecil Baker, Clyde Bennett, George Carter, Walter Carpenter, Arthur Carter, James Cook, Edward Cox, James Coyle, Austin Craig, Orville Cripe, Harold Cripe, Phillip Engemann, Jesse Hughes, Daniel Livengood, Arthur May, Raymond McKeever, Herbert Munson, Charles Pittam, Charles Reed, C. E. Roberts, Earl Sands, Albert Schmitt, Donald Sharley, Claiborne Sittin, Roscoe Van Camp, Chester Wake and Walter Wieman.

Report Against Langer Given

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The senate elections committee reported today that Senator Langer (R-ND) was not entitled to a senate seat because of “a continuous, contemptuous, and shameful disregard for high concepts of public duty.”

“The respondent (Langer),” the committee said: “Has not avoided, and cannot avoid, the consequences of the acts of gross improbity, lawlessness, shotgun law enforcement, jail breaking, violation of oath as an attorney, rabble-rousing, civil disobedience, breach of the peace, obstruction of the administration of justice, and tampering with court officials x x x.”

Asserting that the integrity of the senate was at stake, the committee asked the chamber to deny membership to the former governor of North Dakota, and recommended that action be taken by a simple majority vote.

Filing of the committee report climaxed more than a year of investigations and public hearings on 21 allegations made against Langer by a group of North Dakota petitioners.

Langer was seated “without prejudice” January 3, 1941, and continues to serve with all the rights and privileges of a senator pending a final vote by the senate. The committee voted 13 to 3 against Langer December 18 and then began preparation of its formal report.

In it, the committee told the senate that “the charge of moral turpitude against respondent has been proven beyond all reasonable doubt.”

The marriage of Miss Estle Rucker, the daughter of Mrs. Estle Rucker, 7154 Amherst avenue, St. Louis, and Ensign Gaylord B. Lyon, United States Naval Reserve, took place Saturday in the Episcopal church in Titusville, Fla. As the groom was not able to go to St. Louis, the bride departed last Thursday for Florida. No previous announcement of the engagement had been made.

Mrs. Lyon, who is the daughter of Roy W. Rucker of Kansas City, attended Ruth Faison Shaw school in Rome, Italy and Mont Choise, Lausanne, Switzerland. She is a sister of Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley.

4 North Kingshighway boulevard, St. Louis, and of William W. Rucker, who is stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Ill. The Rucker family formerly lived in Sedalia.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Lyon, 7415 Carleton avenue, St. Louis, who was graduated from Washington university in 1940 and received his commission last month at Pensacola, Fla., is now stationed at the United States Naval Training school at Banana River, Fla., where he and his bride will make their home temporarily.

The 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hunt, of Windsor, was celebrated Sunday with a family dinner held at West View, Warsaw. After the dinner the family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Pettis where friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hunt called to congratulate them.

Those present at the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Hunt and Linda Sue of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Hunt and daughter Mary Carolyn of Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Rochelle I. Hunt and children Robert, Mary Margaret, and Betty Lou, of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Pettis of Warsaw; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hunt of Green Ridge, and the bride and groom of 60 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hunt.

Austin Farley, harpsichord virtuoso, charmed his audience in a recital presented before the Helen G. Steele Music club Wednesday afternoon at the Heard Memorial clubhouse. Mr. Farley is a member of the faculty at Stephens College, Columbia.

A short explanatory talk was given by the guest artist on the relative merits of the harpsichord and the piano before he opened his program. Of eighteenth century charm was the harpsichord which Mr. Farley brought with him for its recital—small, graceful with delicate gold blending in the brown wood of the instrument.

A group of selections from "Fitzwilliam's Virginals" formed the first group on the program. "Wolsey's Wilde," by Byrd, was a seventeenth century popular song; Dr. Bull's "Myself," a true jig; the anonymous "Irish Ho-Hoane," a lament of old Erin; "Two Hornpipes," by Purcell derives its melody from Scotland and "Goe From My Window," by Morley, contained variations on a popular air of the period.

The second part of Mr. Farley's recital was a group of Handel compositions skillfully played with fluency and precision, and particularly interesting was the final number in the group, "Air With Doubles," from "The Harmonious Blacksmith."

Bach's musical story, "Caprice on the Departure of a Beloved Brother," a memorial of six parts

'A Gentleman At Heart' and 'Arizona Terrors' opens tomorrow at the Fox for two days

When gangland invades the art world, art becomes another "racket" and culture takes on a new meaning. Cesar Romero and Carole Landis are the players in the comedy-romance "A Gentleman At Heart" the hilarious hit opening tomorrow at the Fox theatre for two days. The highly entertaining film features Milton Berle, J. Carroll Nash, Rose Hobart and Jerome Cowan.

Co-feature "Arizona Terrors" with Don "Red" Barry and Lynne Merrick.

With vivid descriptive titles indicating the story's progress, was the third group on the program. Four sonatas by Scarlatti, written in D Minor, C Major, C Sharp Minor and E Major, completed the programmed numbers. Scarlatti's musical symmetry is enhanced by its variety with which Mr. Farley is entirely conversant.

As an encore the recitalist played a Bach Sonata in E Flat on the piano, then on the harpsichord to show comparison between the two instruments. "Gigue" from the G Major French suite, was a second encore more complimentary to the harpsichord.

A regular hostess meeting preceded the program with Mrs. H. C. Johnson presiding. Mrs. Dan Carr urged the club to buy defense bonds and stamps, outlining the benefits to be derived by both the individual and the United States government. A "Defense Bond" chorus further advocated investment in freedom.

Members of the "Eat and Run" club, composed of seventh grade girls, had a regular meeting Wednesday afternoon after school at the home of Peggy Preisendorff, 1816 South Massachusetts avenue, and Janet Quinn entered as a new member. Mrs. John Preisendorff, the hostess' mother, assisted in entertaining.

The January meeting of the junior division of the DeWitt Junior Music club was held in Miss Mabel DeWitt's studio Tuesday evening, with the president, Janet Quinn, presiding.

The following program was given: Dropping Leaves, Brown by Patrick Bratten; Spring Song, Thompson and Follow the Leader, Jesse, by Elenora Wolfelt; Valse Triste, Sibeliuss, Thompson, by Mary Janes; Vinesse Melody, Thompson, by Patricia Denney; Spinning Song, Ellenreich, by

• The Washington Merry-go-Round

• by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—The nation will always be proud of and grateful to the five members of the Pearl Harbor Board of Inquiry for their blunt and courageous report. It was a great tribute by true patriots to the honor and game-ness of their country.

They had faith that the U.S.A. could take it and come up fighting to win.

But there were certain army and navy elements who did not have such high concepts. They favored less candor and forthrightness. If they could have had their way the board's report would not have been so damning of incompetence, negligence and dereliction of duty.

Softer and mealy-mouthed words would have been used instead.

It is an inside fact that in very discreet and circuitous ways these elements sought to influence the exertion of social and personal pressure on certain board members to soft-pedal their findings. These members know nothing about this, because it was stopped dead in its tracks.

Secretaries Stimson and Knox saw to it that the board had a completely free hand to act and speak as it saw fit. Like the board, they too are patriots who have faith in their country.

FDR Axes Lewis

The inside reason why John L. Lewis was not named a member of the three-man CIO peace committee was because President Roosevelt personally blocked it.

When he and CIO President Phil Murray discussed the counter plan that scuttled Lewis' blitz scheme, Roosevelt advised that the new AFL and CIO peace committees be limited to three members each. That would avoid turning the joint committee into a "mass meeting," he explained, and also make it easier to keep hostile Lewis out of the picture.

"If you have too large a committee, Phil," the president added with a smile, "you may appoint Lewis."

"I guess you're right, Mr. President," laughed Murray.

NOTE: Lewis intimates say he would not have accepted appointment to the committee if it had been offered him.

The Nelson System

Certain dollar-a-year boys who used to rule the roost in the old OPM are learning that those balmy days are over.

One of these masterminds got a short but pointed lesson on this fact the other day. War Production Chief Donald Nelson called him in and outlined a certain job he wanted done and how it should be done.

"Is this all clear to you?" Nelson said.

"Yes, but we've been doing it differently. Now I suggest . . ."

Interrupting Nelson carefully repeated his instructions and then, looking the dollar-a-yearer squarely in the eye, said quietly, "Do you understand now what I want?"

"Yes, sir," was the meek reply.

Farm Sentiment

An Iowa Republican leader made a very significant survey of farmer sentiment that the masterminds of Congress and the Treasury and Agriculture Department would find it very profitable to give heed to.

They would get some very valuable information on the views of real farmers, as distinguished from those of the lobbyists and politicians who claim to represent them in Washington.

The survey was made by Don L. Berry, director of the Republican Farm Study committee. Berry sent out a questionnaire to every farmer in his home county, Warren. This is what the replies showed:

1. That an overwhelming majority of the farmers were opposed to the amendment written into the price control bill by Senator Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming, fixing a mandatory farm parity level of 125 percent. The attitude of the farmers was that the amendment would cause the public to consider them as trying to profiteer out of the war, and that this might lead to a wave of hostility that would wipe out many of the gains won by agriculture through years of patient effort.
2. A majority of two to one of the farmers favor continuance of the conservation (crop control benefit) payments.
3. A similar majority expressed themselves willing to take their benefit payments in the form of defense bonds and stamps.

More Guam Postscript

Recently, under the caption "Postscript on Guam," this column printed portions of a House debate that preceded the defeat of an appropriation sought by the navy to fortify Guam, strategic Pacific base now in Japanese hands. The House masterminds who killed this national defense measure weren't the only ones in Congress who held such "statesmanlike views. The Senate also had its share of them, as the Congressional Record shows.

Here are excerpts from a Senate debate on the issue of fortifying Guam:

Senator Clyde M. Reed, Kansas Republican—"I am opposed to extending our line of defense to Guam. Our national defense policy should be confined to the defense of the western hemisphere. By no stretch of the imagination can the fortification of Guam be considered as a national defense matter from the standpoint of either the United States or the western hemisphere.

"Its fortification would be useful only in an aggressive war against an Asiatic nation. I do not contemplate any such war, and shall not vote for any appropriation of money which even remotely contemplates that end."

Senator Henrik Shipstead, bitter-tongued Minnesota isolationist—"I can see no immediate danger of attack upon the United States by any foreign country." Later Shipstead inserted in the Congressional Record a strongly-worded article against fortifying Guam.

The late Senator Ernest Lundeen of Minnesota, who had close relations with George Sylvester Viereck, indicted Nazi agent, also took an active part in the discussion, ridiculing the fortification proposal as impractical and a waste of the taxpayers' money.

"Some people are seeing spooks and bogey-men in their attics when they speak of an invasion of this country," Lundeen declared. "What country is going to invade us? The Japanese are too smart to attack this great nation. No nation or combination of nations will attack us in this generation."

And What of Russia?

This is a ticklish subject, but it is a subject that needs dealing with. Unpleasant to think about, it is easier to gloss over than to look squarely in the face. It must be faced.

One hears it said, and more often suggested slyly than said outright, that the thing to do is to fight Japan and let the European war stew on in its own juice in the hope that Germany and Russia will yet exhaust one another in a no-decision bout. Many of those who were most ardent isolationists before the war now swing toward such view. It is based on the idea that a Communist Russia too triumphant over Germany will turn the whole continent of Europe to Communism and from that vantage point Communize the world.

Quite bluntly let us say, "It could happen." There are no sure things in war, greatest of all gambles. The result of a war can never be accurately foreseen.

However, the results of losing are so plain, so terrible, and so imminent that there can be no doubt about them. We know what imposition by military force of Hitlerism means. Balancing that all-too-definite menace against some possible later outcome leaves only one decision.

The war, in its total phases, must be supported in every way that will bring victory, including every possible assistance to Soviet Russia. The choice between a present certain evil and a possible future evil is a simple one.

It is an odd thing that the same people who assume that Britain and the United States face sweeping social changes as a result of the war also assume that Russia will emerge unchanged. It seems unlikely. Already Stalin seems to have called off the anti-religious campaign for the duration, and it may never be revived. Men returning from a war usually demand greater freedom than before, and Russia is just as likely to move toward democracy as the democracies are to move toward Communism. In Russia, Communism has already passed through three systems in which all changed but the name. The war may well bring on a fourth. There is no reason to assume that Russia will be exempt from the general expectation that no country will be quite the same.

It is because we have faith in our American institutions that we fight to uphold them against military aggression. We must have faith that we can uphold them equally against whatever condition (and no one can guess what it will be) may arise in the war's aftermath. Right now, our guiding star in the war effort must be this:

Any holding out, any reservations, in the united drive for victory is terribly likely to result in universal disaster for all.

• Looking Backward

Railroad postoffice service is to be established on Katy Flyers, No. 5 and 6, between Denison, Tex., and St. Louis, through Sedalia, on February 1. The new plan will inaugurate the first railway postoffice fast mail service in this section of the country.

E. T. Thompson, of Ellsberry, Lincoln county, has bought the P. D. Hastain residence on East Broadway, from Judge W. S. Shirk. He will have the house remodeled into flats, he announced.

George Boomer, of the state of Washington, prominent Socialist, will speak at the Socialists' hall in East Sedalia Friday evening.

Dr. Asa H. Heaton has received the bill of lading for the automobile that he purchased on his trip to Ohio recently, and it is expected to arrive here soon. Frank Vollrath will be awarded the contract of unloading it from the railroad car.

Judge O. E. Parsons suggests that the merchants of the city scatter five cents worth of coarse salt on the walks in front of their respective business houses, in order to make pedestrianism much safer. Had this been done yesterday, it was explained, Chief Dispatcher Miller of the Missouri Pacific would not have shattered a section of granitoid walk when he fell on West Second street last night.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. SPODE-FOSTORIA DINNERWARE

Usefulness and Beauty in gleaming glass
... Fostoria "American"

Here in sparkling crystal Fostoria has captured the charm of America's most romantic era in this authentic reproduction of the craftsmanship of Colonial days.

See Fostoria "American" at once. You'll be delighted with the completeness of this pattern and pleasantly surprised to discover the many beautiful pieces that may be had at prices that are ridiculously low—for such fine quality.

Spode

FAIRY DELL

The pattern illustrated is the "Fairy Dell" representing in its rich floral design an old fashioned garden. You'll love its quaint scalloped edge. It can always be added to or filled in. "Spode" never discontinues a pattern.

cuts in home chores you'll understand why I have chosen Faultless Starch as the laundry starch to demonstrate at the Cooking School.

I have used many kinds of laundry starch, but when I discovered Faultless Starch I knew this was the starch I could be enthusiastic about. The results are (no pun intended) absolutely faultless. The ironing looks so expertly finished—yet is so easy to do. Faultless Starch contains every necessary ingredient to make the ironing fast and lovely. No waxes or powders are needed.

You'll find the directions are easy to follow—just measure your starch, cream it with a little cool water and add boiling water while stirring. That's all—no cooking is needed.

I plan to demonstrate this way of making starch at the school. You'll see that it takes me barely a minute to make a perfect hot starching solution.

Come see this short cut to laundering, and the dozens of other ideas we have packed into these school sessions.

Baby's Baths and Shampoos Require
Pure, Mild, Quick-Sudsing Soap

Of course every mother wants her new baby to have the very best possible start in life. That's why for years mothers scrimped their budgets to buy expensive imported castile soap for baby's baths and shampoos, because doctors said that this type of soap was best for tender skin.

Nowadays imported castile soaps are hard to get and very expensive, but fortunately for the family budget, a new white floating soap called Swan has been invented which doctors know is just as pure and mild as the finest 100 per cent olive oil castile.

This velvety soft, fine-textured soap makes suds at twice the speed of old style floating soaps, so it's a particular joy to mothers who know how hard it is to hold a squirming little baby in his bathtub.

The routine of frequent baths and shampoos for babies that modern doctors usually prescribe needn't strain the budget because Swan is made with less moisture than ordinary floating soaps and can be counted on to do more work, although it costs no more.

This amazing new soap breaks easily, too, without jagged edges, so you can have a special piece just for baby and another for your bathroom.

For baby's shampoo use plenty of soap suds and rub very, very gently, taking care not to press against the soft spot on baby's head where the skull hasn't quite grown together. To rinse, tip baby's head backward into the water and you will avoid getting suds into infant eyes.

Don't miss this... waffle syrup supreme

You can't imagine anything more tempting on a cold morning—or evening, than waffles covered with this sizzling hot combination. You'll say the blend of ham and KARO flavors is super-delicious! Fix some tonight!

SYRUP SUPREME

1 slice (about 1 lb.) ham
1 1/2 cups KARO (blue label) 1/2 cup water
2 tsp. prepared mustard 1/4 tsp. cloves
Cut ham into cubes. Place in frying pan, brown... Combine KARO, water, mustard, cloves. Pour over ham. Continue cooking over low heat until ham is cooked. Serve hot over waffles.

When you serve KARO syrup with waffles, pancakes or French toast, you're serving extra food energy. For KARO is rich in Dextrose, food-energy sugar.

*Y*OU'RE a lucky fellow, Mr. Smith! You're invited to the biggest party of the year. There'll be smooth, danceable music, refreshments and sparkling entertainment. Americans throughout the land will be celebrating with you and your neighbors. And while you're having the time of your life, you'll be helping the thousands of children all over America who are putting up a courageous fight against infantile paralysis.

That's why January 30th belongs to you almost as much as to the President. It's your chance to buy a share in the future of the U. S. A. While you dance, you'll be making that future bright for thousands of young Americans. Helping them will give you new faith in yourself, and faith in a land where boys and girls, busy with ice-skates and homework and movies, are unafraid of tomorrow and the day after.

TIME: From nine o'clock on, Friday, January 30, 1942, in Convention Hall, Liberty Park.

ADMISSION: 50c per person.

ENTERTAINMENT: Music contributed by American Federation of Musicians, Sedalia Local No. 22.

PROCEEDS: To go to the relief and treatment of infantile paralysis. 50% of the receipts will go to the Warm Springs, Georgia Foundation and the other 50% will be used to advantage in our own community.

Rural Gardens Are Aiding In Defense

Pettis Families Enroll In Food Program

Nearly 600 Have Signed Blanks, Reports Reveal

The part rural Pettis county has been playing in defense through gardens was revealed at a district garden meeting in Sedalia Wednesday by Miss Dorothy Bacon, home demonstration agent. Miss Bacon gave facts from 550 of the survey blanks which have been returned to the county extension office by leaders who have enrolled families in the "Food for the Home Program".

This report covered 25 families from the Iona community, 69 from Dresden community, 94 from Longwood community, 16 from Quisenberry community, 78 from Hugesville community, 40 from Beaman community, 18 from South Abell community, 104 from Houstonia community, 109 from Green Ridge community and 16 from Smithton community. Other survey blanks which are in have been totaled and several enrollments have not been turned in as yet.

Percentage Grows

The reports revealed that 98 percent had produced green beans; 97 per cent potatoes and lettuce; 96 per cent peas, onions and radishes; and 95 per cent tomatoes. These were produced by most families last year and it is anticipated that 100 per cent of the farm families of Pettis county will produce them this year. The next most commonly grown vegetables were beets grown by 92 per cent of the families and carrots, grown by 90 per cent.

Cabbage, sweet corn and cucumbers were grown by only 82 per cent of those families. Rhubarb, spinach, mustard, turnips, lima beans, peppers and sweet potatoes were grown by 60 to 64 per cent of the families. Only 41 per cent grew asparagus and parsnips, 36 per cent dry beans and squash, and only 22 to 26 per cent grew salsify, New Zealand spinach and Swiss chard; 16 per cent grew okra; 5 per cent grew egg plant, kohlrabi and cabbage and only 2 per cent grew edible soybeans.

More For Defense

Although in general farm families have been growing gardens they are planning to grow more for defense this year than ever before. The surveys showed that less than half the gardens grew 20 or more varieties of foods. This figure can easily be raised this year, as people are becoming more interested in varieties.

Some dealers are packaging recommended varieties and amounts of seeds for the average Pettis county family to sell as a family package; this will help to increase the number of varieties grown. 4-H club members are also enrolling in family garden projects where they will be encouraged to grow a larger variety of foods.

Other interesting things reported by Miss Bacon were that the families who served tomatoes four or more times per week did not report the use of cold tablets while those serving tomatoes less frequently did use cold tablets. These figures bear out the nutritionists experiments that Vitamin C helps prevent colds.

The figures showed 21 quarts of vegetables other than tomatoes canned per person. Of that amount only five quarts were pea sand greens.

10-Quart Goal

The goal for this year is 10 quarts per person instead of five. The foods leaders of the Home Economics Extension clubs and the garden leaders of the neighborhood groups will be having meetings and giving out information to help rural families produce more and better foods for home and defense.

Posters headed "Eat the Right Food, America Needs You Strong," will be distributed by them also in an attempt to help people eat the right food as well as grow the right food.

The slogan "Plant A Garden" is one of the many common victory slogans and one which should be carried out, but with caution. It has been repeatedly emphasized that since some garden seeds and fertilizers are scarce it is unwise to tear up lawns and back yards in town sand cities to plant vegetable gardens, but every farm family can successfully grow a garden, since they have the soil and fertilizer with which to do it. Then it is up to every man, woman and child with will power to eat the varieties of vegetables produced for good health.

Truck And Fruit Crops Important

Bumper yields of truck and fruit crops will be more important than ever this year, because of the increased need for vegetables and fruits of all kinds, and the best defense against insects attacking such crops is a well timed offense says George D. Jones of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. Delay in ordering repair and replacement parts for insect-fighting equipment may seriously reduce the effectiveness of this defense.

The Priorities division of the Office of Production Management has given a high preference rating to manufacturers of farm machinery repair parts, but only enough parts are being produced

Collection Of Scrap Metal From All Local Farms Is War Project

Idle scrap iron must be put to work for victory in America's war effort. It is estimated a million and a half tons of iron are lying useless on U. S. farms. This amount would be sufficient, if combined with other necessary materials, to build 139 modern 35,000-ton battleships for the Navy.

The Pettis county USDA War board, like others throughout the entire country, have taken the responsibility of encouraging the collection of scrap metal from all local farms.

B. C. Claycomb, chairman of the county war board, pointed out that scrap metal is an essential ingredient in the production of steel. "That 125 pounds of rusty scrap on your dump pile may look unimportant," he said, "but when mixed with other materials it is enough to make a 500-pound aerial bomb. Or, if the farmers in Pettis county pile up 36,000 pounds we will have enough to make one 27-ton tank."

The total amount of scrap available on American farms is estimated to be sufficient for the manufacture of 50 million machine guns of .50 calibre, or 156,250 light tanks of the type which the British have used so effectively in the Libyan campaign. "USDA War boards have the task of moving this metal off the farms and into smelters and blast furnaces," the chairman stated. "We have undertaken the greatest production drive in the nation's history, and one immediate need is for scrap iron. This fact is indicated by reports that many small steel plants throughout the country have been slowed down or have had to suspend operations because scrap is not available," Claycomb added.

Any farmer having scrap iron on his place is urgently requested to contact a junk dealer or the county war board and make arrangements to have the scrap moved to defense industries.

Planning For Balanced Program

40 Delegates At Soils Conference State Intentions

Forty of the delegates attending the Annual Soils and Crops conference last week indicated their intention of planning a balanced farm program for their farms this winter. In planning such a program on their farms they will coordinate their enterprises and activities into a well-balanced farming system, to bring about most effective production, maximum profits, the conservation of all resources and to provide satisfying living conditions. This will involve planning and carrying out:

1. A well balanced crop rotation system to provide adequate pasture and roughage and such grain as the farm is suited to produce.
2. A field layout which suits the farm.
3. Soil treatments and other conservation practices necessary to maintain soil resources.
4. Livestock enterprises and management practices that utilize most profitably the production of the cropping system.
5. Most efficient utilization of labor, power, machinery, woodlands, wildlife, and other resources.

6. A program for producing on the farm as much as possible of the family food supply.

7. Wise use of available and borrowed capital to bring about any necessary changes to best advantage.

8. Sufficient financial records to keep all operations on a sound business like basis.

Those farmers who will plan such a program include:

Missouri USDA War Board Question Box

Q. What is the government doing to keep feed prices in line so that farmers can produce more livestock products?

A. Ever-Normal Granary reserves, which have proved more than adequate, have a stabilizing effect on feed prices. Government-owned corn is being sold, and farmers are redeeming their loans to make more feed available. The Office of Price Administration is guarding against speculative price advances to excessive levels.

Q. Can livestock products at present prices buy more feed than at last years prices?

A. Yes, at current prices eggs can buy 13 percent more feed, hogs 59 percent more corn, and milk delivered at condenseries 19 percent more dairy ration than a year earlier.

Q. Is there a shortage of food in the United States now?

A. No. On top of great reserves of the principal farm products, farmers this year piled up the greatest farm production in our history. But for a really adequate diet for all our people, we need to produce more of the vitamin and mineral-rich foods. Q. If there is no shortage of foods in the country, then why is the government making such an effort to increase farm production?

A. So that farmers will be prepared in advance to meet increased demand both in our own country and in Great Britain for certain vital foods. Increased food production also means better workers and soldiers and protects consumers against excessive food prices.

Q. Is the government going to ration foods?

A. The policy of the government is to encourage farmers to increase production so that there will be enough food for all needs thus preventing great shortages which would make rationing necessary.

Q. Are any foods going to be scarce here next year?

A. In determining next year's production goals, allowance was made not only for the needs of the American people, including distribution to the underprivileged, and for export abroad, but also for stock piles or reserves of food. This should be sufficient to meet all our needs.

Annual Tenant Purchase Meeting Held

Review Work Of Member Families During Last Year

The Pettis county annual Tenant Purchase Borrowers' meeting was held at the home of Virginia Lee Slusher, home management supervisor, yesterday.

The purpose of the meeting was to review and discuss the work done by tenant purchase families during the year. E. A. Ikenberry, district RR supervisor, began the meeting by giving a talk on "What Farmers Can Do To Help Aid In Defense." Miss Mary L. Johnson, district home management supervisor, presented two imaginary families, the "Perkys" and the "Pokeys," contrasting their good and poor diets and showing the difference good food can make in the health of the family.

Discusses Records

Oscar H. DeWolf, RR supervisor, began a discussion of the records kept by tenant purchase families during the year. Those families who did an especially good job on one certain point were asked to tell how they did better than other families. The home part of this discussion was conducted by Miss Slusher.

After the noon meal, Frank Van Dyke, Tenant Purchase committee chairman and Elbert Rissler, former TP chairman, each gave a short talk.

William L. McKnight, assistant RR supervisor, discussed the soil conservation program of a Pettis county farm, pointing out the benefits that are obtained by conserving soil and producing crops adapted to the land.

J. U. Morris, county agent, told the group of the importance of a soil conserving policy on all farms. He also stressed the importance of applying lime to the farm land of Pettis county.

Operating Since 1940

Ikenberry closed the meeting by giving some remarks on money management. "Now is the time to get all you pay for," Ikenberry said. Tenant purchase has been operating in Pettis county since the fall of 1940. Five families have completed a full year as tenant purchase families and four families have bought farms during 1941. This program provides a loan for the purchase price of land and improvements, amortized over a 40-year period.

Yearly Payments

Yearly payments are based on the amount of money taken in during the year less farm and home operating and planned expenditures which makes what the farm is able to pay each year. In good years a family pays more than in an average year and by so doing will not have to pay as large an amount during a hard year.

Tenant Purchase borrowers attending the meeting were Henry F. O'Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Harbit, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. William McCune and Mr. and Mrs. Millard Edmundson.

Tenant Purchase committeemen who assisted the county farm security staff, in attendance were, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hinken, Mr. and Mrs. John Sneed, Elbert Rissler acted as chairman of the Tenant Purchase committee last year.

VERSAILLES

To Accelerate Purchase Of Defense Bonds

Program On Flag Presented Before H. S. Students

By Mrs. Lloyd Buchanan

The nucleus of an organization designed to promote the sale of Defense Stamps and Bonds in Versailles and the surrounding territory was set up last Monday night at a meeting in the Bank of Versailles.

E. W. Guenther, general chairman, who with Postmaster J. M. Earp, Dr. M. S. Otten and Harold Knoop attended an organizational meeting in Jefferson City recently, explained that everyone now, regardless of how small his income, will be required to contribute his share toward war relief.

The committee plans to contact every business man and wage earner, including farmers in this region in an effort to accelerate the sale of defense stamps and bonds.

The committee is composed of an educational group, Moss McDonald and Lee T. Sims; public employees, Dr. P. F. Eckhoff and E. E. Archer; women's organizations, Mrs. Don Harrison, Mrs. P. J. McDonough and Mrs. William Otten; Information and publicity, Dr. M. S. Otten; speakers bureau, Rev. Val Strader; payroll allotment, Roy E. Otten, H. A. Meyer, C. H. Smoyer, J. M. Earp, William Otten, Hap Nichols, Ben L. Rickard, D. K. Hunter and Roy Robinson.

Mrs. Don Harrison presented a program at the high school last week to instruct the student body in the respects due the American flag and the national anthem. A group of students, including Betty Sue Heineman, Charlotte Smoyer, Dorothy Jean Kidwell, Betty Lea Willson, Ruth Hall and Beth Harrison discussed the proper positions of the flag and the various occasions for display. Girl Scout Beth Harrison, Boy Scout Bill Caine, Cub Scout Gale Hughes,

Wickard To Speak Monday In St. Louis

Number Of Pettis Countians Expect To Attend Meeting

Claude R. Wickard, secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has just advised the Missouri USDA War Board he will be in St. Louis, Monday, February 2 to speak to farmers and agricultural workers from fourteen midwestern states. The meeting scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. and adjourn at 2:30 p. m., will be held in the Jefferson Hotel. The Missouri USDA War Board extended the invitation to Wickard.

A copy of the secretary's acceptance has just been received by B. C. Claycomb, chairman of the local USDA board. Secretary Wickard's wife was as follows:

"I am glad to accept the invitation of the Missouri USDA War Board to meet with them and members of other midwestern USDA War Boards at St. Louis on February 2 to discuss the new production goals for 1942. The war in the Far East has increased the need for production of fats and oils and at St. Louis I plan to give special emphasis to the new goals for soybeans as well as the corn and feeds situation. The midwest carries a heavy responsibility in food production for the war and your meeting offers an excellent opportunity for farmers and other agricultural workers to bring to date the plans already made to meet this responsibility."

In discussing the St. Louis meeting, Claycomb said "this is a real opportunity for farmers and war board members to meet our Secretary of Agriculture." In addition to the privilege of meeting with Mr. Wickard, those attending the conference will obtain much valuable information on food production goals, the selective service and agricultural priorities.

The following war board members from Pettis county are expected to attend the meeting on February 2:

Thomas J. Raines, J. U. Morris, John Baker, Oscar H. DeWolf, Edward Heffernan, and B. C. Claycomb. Also expected to make the trip to St. Louis are Mrs. Ruth Fichter, Pettis county AAA Field woman; J. A. DeJarnette, member of Pettis county AAA committee; and other Triple-A committeemen.

Legionnaire Moss McDonald, Civilians Jimmy Hunter and Natalie Kavanaugh and Private Jim Frank Hughes demonstrated the proper salutes according to dress, due the flag or the music during the playing of the playing of the national anthem.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McDonough have as their guests their daughter, Mrs. Ed. Friedewald of St. Louis.

Miss Louise Morrow, who has been employed by the Social Securities Commission in Kansas City for the past two years, has returned to Versailles and has been appointed to the position of Morgan county visitor for the Social Security Commission.

Pvt. Jim Frank Hughes has returned to Cheyenne, Wyo., where he is in military training after a week's visit here with his mother, Mrs. Alice Hughes and other relatives.

Miss Nell Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Ora L. Wilson of Versailles and Jack Duncan of St. Louis were married at the Methodist parsonage here at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Val Strader. Mrs. Duncan has been employed here for a number of years as cashier at the American Sales company. They left Sunday to make their home in St. Louis where Mr. Duncan has a defense job.

The members of the Christian church will have a turkey dinner and reception in the city hall Wednesday evening for their new minister, Rev. John Zimmer and wife, of Eldon.

Training Courses For Rural Youth

VERSAILLES, Jan. 28— The Versailles high school is cooperating with the state department of education in an effort to make available to the rural youth of the community two national defense training courses.

The first of these two courses will include a study of the operation, care and repairing of tractors, trucks and automobiles. The main objective of the course is to create a reservoir of youth with preliminary training who may go into national defense industrial employment as the occasion demands.

All young men of this vicinity between the ages of 17 and 24, inclusive, are eligible. The class will meet for 15 hours each week for ten weeks.

Farm Front Maps 'Food for Freedom' War Strategy

By NEA SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Modern armies are old-fashioned when it comes to food. Despite swift airplanes, speedy tanks, and fast transport ships, they still travel on their stomachs. Food has never been outdated.

To provide the food needed by the United States in today's war, six million American farmers have mobilized their fields and barnyards into a huge Food-for-Freedom campaign. The anticipated production will be the largest in U. S. history. The aim is to give every soldier, sailor and busy civilian of the United States and her Allies the victory-vitality that comes from three square meals a day. And, looking ahead to the day when the war is ended, farmers expect to be equally ready then to help hungry people of liberated countries get back on their feet.

Agriculture's aims are expressed simply in the maximum, "Food will win the war and write the peace."

Top commissions in this wartime food army have been given to familiar barnyard animals—the cow, the chicken, the pig. Also in the new quartermaster's corps is the common garden vegetable. From such sources come the foods most needed to insure maximum energy and health.

In order to have some guideposts in this gigantic production job, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has set up "food-for-freedom goals." National goals were established first, based on the food needed for military purposes, civilian use, shipment to Allies, and for end-of-the-war stockpiles.

These production aims were broken down into state goals, then county. Today every U. S. farmer knows what he should produce in order to make the best patriotic contribution.

Milk production of 125 billion pounds, seven per cent more than last year, is the 1942 dairy goal. This amount of milk literally would float hundreds of battleships.

Egg production of 4200 million dozens, a 10 per cent increase over 1941, is the tremendous goal assigned the poultry industry. This fantastic number of eggs would create an omelet far larger than the world's greatest airplane landing field.

Meat production will be increased proportionately with the marketing of 10 million more hogs than last year, 2 to 3 million more beef and veal animals, and 60 million more chickens.

Vegetable production is being increased by asking that farmers have one and a third million additional home gardens, and that commercial vegetable growers greatly expand their fields. The biggest increases are needed in green peas, cabbage, onions and tomatoes.

In addition, farmers are asked to grow 50 per cent more soybeans and more than double peanut acreage because of need for the valuable vegetable oils each contains.

It's time of dramatic expansion for virtually every farmer in the nation, with the possible exception of growers of wheat, cotton and tobacco. They have done their jobs so well in the past that huge granaries and warehouses bulge with their commodities. Both land and labor will be most helpful today, says the Department to the farmers, if some of it is diverted to food-for-freedom production.

The fact that American farms are fully "tooled up" and are turning out record-breaking quantities of food is one of the nation's most potent weapons, declares the Department. This production assures health and physical strength for U. S. armed forces. It assures plenty of fair-priced food for consumers. It gives energy to Allies. It lifts the hopes of oppressed nations whose granaries and pantries have been robbed by the

County Cows Contribute To Defense

Produced 229,946 Pounds Of Milk During December

The 414 cows owned by the 16 members of the Pettis County Dairy Herd Improvement association are contributing their share to defense by producing 229,946 pounds of milk and 10,700 pounds of butterfat during the month of December. This is an average of 555 pounds of milk and 25.8 pounds of butterfat per cow.

Some of the cows in the association did an unusually good job in that 17 cows produced over 50 pounds of butterfat and 35 cows produced over 40 pounds but under 50 pounds of butterfat and 36 cows produced over 1,000 pounds of milk.

Watch Herds Closely

Association members are continually watching their herds and weeding out the low producers and six such cows were sold during the month.

One of the reasons for this good production is that in all cases grain was fed in addition to the roughage. Ten of the herds had either alfalfa, lespedeza, or soybean hay as a roughage and two of the herds who did not have a legume hay were fed sweet clover silage as a roughage. All of the herds except two were fed silage.

Petty and Turner had the highest producing herd with an average butterfat production of 35.6 pounds per cow and an average of 947 pounds of milk per cow.

Dow Brothers had the highest producing cow which produced 85.1 pounds of butterfat and 1,773 pounds of milk.

The five highest producing herds include:

Urges Sending Seeds To Britain

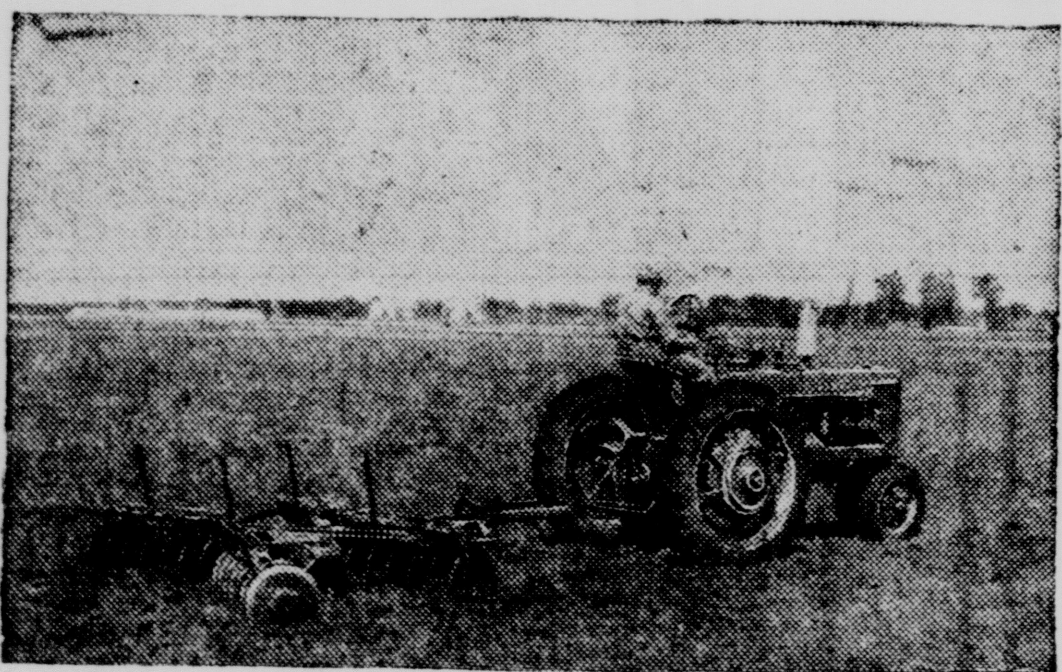

A recent letter received from Mrs. Paul Palmer, chairman of the state Home and Community of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation, calls attention to what was done in supplying seeds to Great Britain last year and to the need for helping supply them with seeds this year. It says—"Helping the British people raise their own garden saves shipping space and builds health and morale at very slight costs."

Not only Farm Bureau families and Farm Bureau groups are invited to participate in this activity but any individual or group may all take part.

Mrs. Palmer further says there will be many calls for many

Struggle Against Insect Pests Vital In War Effort

The perpetual struggle against insect pests must go on at an ever-increasing pace as an important part of the major war effort in which this country is now engaged, urges Leonard Haseman of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. Every man, woman and child is urged to help with this fight.

To win the major war we must have food and ever-increasing amounts of clothing, housing, equipment, and all materials of war. Along with this we must safeguard the health of our civilian population, as well as that of our fighting forces, and we must likewise maintain a high state of morale. This means that farmers must produce more and save more of what they produce, both for winning the war and after it the peace.

Among the greatest drawbacks to increased crop and livestock production are insect enemies and disease, and never before has it been so important that the warfare against these enemies should be stepped up.

Missouri's average annual insect loss of fifty million dollars must be reduced to a minimum. This loss can be reduced and it will be the duty of the recently organized state committee on insect and disease control to formulate plans and to direct the strategy of the all-out warfare to be waged against these pests.

Greater effort must be directed at the protection of stored grains and other foods and civilian and military products against the various insect enemies of homes, buildings and all stored products. Stores of grain in particular must be protected against insects through frequent checkups and fumigation when necessary.

In wartimes there is nothing so destructive to civilian morale and military efficiency as outbreaks of disease, and in such times various insect carriers of disease become most active. In cooperation with state and army health officials, entomologists will increase their vigil and expand their warfare against all disease-carrying insect menaces.

Mr. Farmer Uncle Sam Needs Your Cooperation

Mr. Farmer, our Uncle Samuel is going to need food to feed our Soldiers, and Iron for their Guns, Planes, Tanks, and New Farm Machinery.

You can help provide Iron NOW by scrapping all your discarded Farm Machinery.

You can begin NOW to provide for raising more Food next summer.

Here's How You Can Answer Uncle Sam's Call-And Do Your Part:

1. SCRAP OLD MACHINERY

Sell all old machinery that is no longer usable. If there are good parts on your discarded implements, take them off for future use and sell the remainder. There are tons and tons of old iron tied up in discarded Farm Implements right here in this district. The longer you keep it the more it will rust away and the longer you keep our Uncle Sam from converting it into needed War Munitions.

2. REPAIR YOUR USABLE MACHINERY

Every Tractor, Plow, Truck, and all other Farm Machinery that needs repairing and tuning-up should be put in first class shape NOW! DON'T WAIT UNTIL NEXT SPRING. when you will need to use your machinery. Bring it to us now and we will put our expert mechanics at work on it so that it will be ready for use before the Spring Rush comes and everybody will be wanting repairs done at the same time and it will be impossible to serve everyone in a few days. Come NOW, while there is time to serve all.

3. GET ALL NEEDED PARTS NOW

Nearly every Farmer will be needing parts for his Farm Implements. Our government and all of your Implement dealers EARNESTLY URGE you to get EVERY NEEDED PART NOW. Farm implement factories are going into production of War Munitions. IN THE NAME OF OUR GOVERNMENT, ACT TODAY.

It Is Wise to Anticipate Your Needs In New Farm Machinery and Buy Now!

MR. FARMER LET'S ALL DO OUR PART TO WIN THE WAR. WE MUST DO IT. HERE IS HOW WE CAN HELP IN A BIG WAY! LET'S BE PREPARED!

WELLIVER VS. BALESTIER

CHAPTER XIX

"LOOK, Doc," I said, thinking about the trouble with Maurie. "This is a rough world we're living in. You and I are going to have a little target practice out back."

Well, Doc was a natural with a pistol. In a week he could nick a four-bit piece at 30 yards.

Angel wasn't around so much, these days. After the Harstrom slump, the team settled down to work and showed something. The betting on the Balestier game went back to even, but I had my little fifty down at five to seven, and Angel got four hundred for Juddy's three.

Reservations at Tambay Camp began coming in early for the week-end of the big game. Then one morning a couple of young fellows with rods and chains came in and ordered eggs, cakes and sausage.

"What goes on, boys?" I asked, after I'd served them.

"State survey. The new bridge." "What d'you mean, the new bridge? That's to cross half a mile downstream."

"Nothing's settled," one of them said. "But there's some talk that this would be a better place."

Curtains for Tambay. That's what it meant, if true. I could smell a smell of Mowry about this.

With only a week to go before the Balestier game, a pair of barriers sprouted right up out of the earth overnight, a mile on each side of us, and detoured our traffic. "Road Closed for Temporary Repairs." That was the reading matter. Repairs, my foot! I got the ax and tossed those barriers into the ditch. Then they got me and tossed me into Brandon jail. After a while Sheriff Mowry came around and passed me out.

"I wouldn't have had this happen for a million dollars, ma'am," he said, solemn as a hoot-owl. "Is that your price now?" I said. "You've gone up. But we could talk."

"You'll always find me reasonable."

Well, I wouldn't say but what a hundred dollars was reasonable enough for calling off the detour till after the big game. But that was no guarantee that eventually the bridge wouldn't put us out of business. I could guess Mowry's price for that; the 25 per cent out of the mining rights. I'd found out that the head of the Highways Department was his brother-in-law. He certainly held good cards.

JUDDY was having her troubles, too. She showed me a letter from Angel.

Sweetness:

This is tough. I will not be seeing you again till after the game. It can't be helped. They have got me intome-know-diado. Don't worry. I love you and we are going to lick them. I'm all for you.

Angel.

Wat Smith furnished the answer when he showed up that evening. "Can you find Angel for me, Wat?"

"Not at the moment."

"I want to see him. It's important."

"So's the Balestier game."

"But why can't I see Angel?"

"You've got a mean, suspicious nature. What should there be wrong?"

"Wat, if you're going to be that way, I shall drive over and go to his room and sit there till I see him."

"Thereby getting him fired. There's a good old Baptist rule about wild women in the dorms." He sized up Juddy's chin which was moving forward. "Well, what do you think is wrong?"

"I don't know. He wrote me not to worry. That's what worries me."

"A-plus in logic. Did he ever mention a man from Miami to you?"

"The gambler?"

"Right. He's back. Raised the ante to fifteen hundred. Angel took a poke at him."

"I'm glad he did. What's wrong with that?"

"Nothing. Nothing at all. Commendable but unsafe. Someone took a potshot at Angel when he was coming back from somewhere the other night."

"Angel's been shot?"

"Calm down, maiden. Shot at. Maybe not even at; maybe just toward. I think they're trying to get his nerve. A couple of black-hand letters have come to him. So Coach Harley isn't taking any chances on his prize package. Now, you tell me something. What fell on Oliver at Tambay, that night in vacation time?"

"He was mooning around in the dark and fell down—"

"And Jill came tumbling after. I've heard that one, too."

"Then why ask me?"

"In the futile hope of eliciting some facts."

ANGEL had got us well seats on the 50-yard line, with a bunch of the Rogues. Of course, I'd no business going. But I couldn't resist that game.

Doc Oliver arrived and sat right below us. There was the usual lot of chitchat passing around about the game; the Balestier boys were out for manhandling, mayhem, and murder; they were going to make hash of Angel Todd; two men were assigned to him—three—four. Everybody had something to say about Scallinger, the Balestier left tackle.

"Is that the one that plays opposite Angel?" Juddy asked.

"Not opposite, my beautiful," Rags Owen said, "but unpleasantly near. Our pride, our joy, our beamish boy is in for a busy afternoon."

When the visiting team came out, they looked like bad news to me. Juddy was as excited as a schoolgirl.

That first quarter was a dorb. I'm no sports reporter, and anyway, things happened so fast I could hardly keep up with them.

Most of the play was on our side of the field and Man-Mountain Scallinger was doing his share of it. I worried Juddy.

I tapped Loren Oliver on the shoulder. "Our young lady, here, isn't satisfied with the way things are going," I said.

"What's wrong?" Doc said. "Oh, Todd? He's taking good care of himself."

Juddy got red. "D'you mean he's shirking?" she said. "I think that's a rotten thing to say."

"I didn't say it," Doc pointed out to her. "You haven't seen many gains around his end, have you? On defense, they're keeping an extra man on him."

Nobody scored that quarter. It looked like the same thing in the next until toward the end. Then Angel, who took a pass and had just about got into the clear, was tackled so hard by Scallinger that he lay there, out. The Welliver stands began to yell for blood.

"Dirty! Dirty! Run him off the field. Take him out!"

Juddy was in the chorus, hammering the nearest object in front of her, which happened to be Doc Oliver's back.

"What's the matter now?" he said.

"Kill him!" Juddy yipped. "He did it on purpose. Kill him!"

"Of course he did it on purpose," Doc said. "It was a perfectly fair tackle."

I thought Juddy was going to choke. They took Angel off. Three minutes later Balestier got their touchdown on a crossback, and kicked the goal. I heard a moan back of me. It was Van Clark.

"There goes our ball game," he said.

"There goes my fifty," I said.

Doc said, "This game isn't over yet."

Recoveries On Grain Market
CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP) - The grain market regained its equilibrium today, recovering some of the loss inflicted during yesterday's sharp price slump.

Buying by processors, consuming interests and professional traders who were attracted by the lower price level helped to lift corn and rye a cent or more at times, wheat and soybeans fractionally and soybeans more than 3 cents.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1/2 cent higher compared with yesterday, May $1.30 1/2 to $1.31, July $1.32 1/2 to $1.32 1/2; corn 1 to 1 1/2 cent higher, May 87 1/2 to 88; July 89 1/2 to 89 1/2; oats 1/4 to 1/2 cent up; rye 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower; soybeans 2 1/2 to 3 cents higher.
